

11th World Congress on

PHARMACEUTICAL SCIENCES

September 28-29, 2018 | Montreal, Canada

Joining hands to modulate the authority of pharmacist to improve the world's health system

Syed Iftikhar Hussain Shah
Biotroll (pvt.), Pakistan

The main purpose of addressing this conference is to focus some innovative recommendations in order to develop the professional span of pharmacist's community in existing global health system. It will give hopes to the community in our region for eliminating the diseases encountered every day, effectively and efficiently. As Pakistan has and is improving its Pharmaceutical sector countrywide and internationally, by the help of both government and private sectors, we are confident and hopeful to overcome the problems encountered by Pakistani market. Pakistan is a land of opportunities with one of the most fertile soils and six seasons countrywide over the year, with some collaborative help and insight we can create many medicinal plants and develop new strategies that may promise to deal with both common and rare diseases. Young Pharmacists are encouraged and are focused to develop their research capabilities for developing new and effective medicinal products. World Pharma congress should create some initiatives and support for the students and trainees. Pakistani market has shown promise and a safe environment for foreign visitors and is collaborating for the opportunity of hosting the world Pharma conference in Pakistan.
