

15th Annual Congress on Dentistry and Dental Medicine
39th International Conference on Dental and Oral Health

January 24, 2024 | Webinar

Multidisciplinary approach for management of endodontic treated discolored tooth

Sarah F Al Sudairy

Prince Sultan Military Medical City, Saudi Arabia

Abstract: When it comes to endodontic treated discolored teeth, its challenging. Bleaching non vital discolored teeth has keys for success; discoloration of teeth is a fundamental esthetic problem and has a social impact. It's important for the dentist to identify etiology of teeth discoloration to establish proper diagnosis. In this case study, 23 year old male with major concern regarding his front discolored tooth. Tooth had root canal treatment since childhood due to trauma with persistent swelling appearing on tooth gingiva.

Biography

Dr. Sarah is a Consultant in Advanced Restorative Dentistry at Prince Sultan Military Medical City in Riyadh, Saudi Arabia. She has the Saudi Board in Advanced Restorative Dentistry and Advanced Education in General dentistry from UBC. She was a speaker in several confrences worldwide and a supervisor on interns and general practitioner in her hospital.

Received Date: November 07, 2023; Accepted Date: November 10, 2023; Published Date: March 19, 2024