To the Editorial Board,

Please be advised that this letter is to enthusiastically support the endeavors of the Journal of Genetic Syndromes and Gene Therapy. The research being conducted, particularly in the field of addiction, is breathing new life into an industry that has had a difficult time keeping pace with the latest research. The editorial board members and journal staff have done an outstanding job in establishing its high professional standing. I have no hesitancy in recommending this journal to be indexed in PubMed.

Sincerely,

Thomas G. Beley, PhD, LCSW
